

LUXPO

Be a part of Luxpo in 2018

Now in its fourth year, Luxpo is a unique luxury event run by ttgluxury and TTG Media.

The event is designed to match a range of high-end travel brands with a handpicked selection of luxury travel agents in useful one-to-one meetings.

This year, we have listened to feedback and will be extending the time of the London event, giving you more time with each of the 25 agents, lunch and a more relaxed, yet still time-efficient event. In the regional events, you will spend the afternoon with 15 agents.

Luxpo is one of THE most cost-effective events in the luxury sector, giving great ROI per contact acquisition and the chance to present your product to the right kind of agents in a suitable format and environment.
